

War at Sea Claims Another U. S.-Owned Ship Near Iceland

Capital Wonders Whether Germany Is Ready to Defy Roosevelt

Washington, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The sea war added another American-owned merchantman to its toll today, and the capital wondered whether this latest sinking was meant to be an open challenge to President Roosevelt's shoot-on-sight order which barred the "defensive waters" of the United States to all axis raiders.

The newest victim was the freighter Pink Star, owned by the U. S. Maritime Commission but operating under Panamanian registry. The sinking took on great potential significance, for it was the first such incident reported since Roosevelt proclaimed the "defensive waters" policy Sept. 11.

(In Berlin, authorized German sources said that while no German craft had reported sinking the Pink Star it was their opinion that whatever happened to the vessel was "in accordance with the laws of war.")

The vessel was Panamanian, not United States', one German authority said, "and we have not heard yet that Panama is part of the United States. The vessel was sunk in waters clearly defined as a German operations area."

Went Down Last Friday

At the launching of the 35,000-ton battleship Massachusetts, Navy Secretary Knox said that the neutrality law was "no longer an asset but a liability", was crippling the efforts of this country and "should be immediately repealed."

"Our task," Knox said, "is to keep the fighting away from America. Let us free the hands of the commander-in-chief."

"We must waste no time in repealing the neutrality act."

The Pink Star went down last Friday, the state department disclosed last night, and she met her end southeast of Iceland in the same waters that witnessed the loss of two other American-owned vessels and the unsuccessful submarine attack on the U. S. destroyer Greer.

The announcement of the Pink Star's sinking was silent on several details—a fact which caused some speculation. Nothing was said about the fate of the 34 men in her crew, and there was no hint as to how she met her end—by a mine, torpedo, an aerial bomb or the guns of a surface raider.

Location Placed
The location of the ship's sinking, however, was definitely placed some 255 miles south of Iceland on the corridor of sea communications which Roosevelt specifically has ordered the navy to keep clear.

The first ship sunk in those waters was the Sessa, American-owned but of Panamanian registry, which was torpedoed and shelled to the bottom Aug. 17, about 300 miles southwest of

Mighty Battleship Launched; Keel of Cruiser Laid Down

Quincy, Mass., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox today watched the huge 35,000-ton battleship Massachusetts slide down the ways of the Fore River ship yards, and then declared to a crowd of thousands of attending the launching that the neutrality act was "crippling" the efforts of this country and should be immediately repealed.

"There should be no handicap on those who are trying to keep war away from these shores," the navy secretary shouted into a loudspeaker system that carried his words throughout the vast shipbuilding yards.

"We must waste no time in repealing the neutrality act," the mighty Massachusetts was launched without a slip-up.

The keel of a new cruiser, the U. S. S. Flint, was laid on the spot just vacated by the Massachusetts before the bow of the battleship had entered water.

"Prospects Dim"
Knox asserted that recent events on the Russian front had made "the prospect of victory dim."

He did not elaborate on this, except to say that the casualties in Russia were greater than in any other conflict in history, and that the fighting in Russia had a direct bearing on our own situation.

He said it was possible that the battleship just launched might have to "participate in another fight for human liberty."

The Massachusetts and other battleships recently launched or building would carry the heaviest guns afloat, he said, and would participate in the job handed to the navy of "seeing that the sea lanes between this country and Great Britain are kept free."

Tragedy

Edwardsville, Ill., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Sixteen months ago the parents, brother and sister of Jack Flannery, 11, perished in an auto-train wreck near here.

Young Jack was killed at a crossing yesterday by a fast Nickel Plate freight train—just a mile from that other tragic spot and only 50 yards from his destination. He was riding a bicycle on an errand.

Ships Needed for Defense Kept Idle by Seamen's Strike

(By The Associated Press)

A seaman's strike kept more than a score of ships needed for defense and lease-land air riding at anchor today and A. F. L. machinists reported a strike vote was being taken at a big west coast bomber plant.

The Maritime Commission offered to sponsor conferences at Washington in an effort to end a dispute over war bonuses on various sea trade routes—and brought in reply an appeal by the New York unit of the Seafarers International Union (A. F. L.) to President Roosevelt to investigate the commission's "anti-labor activities."

The 11-day-old strike spread to three more vessels in the Atlantic and Gulf last night and Secretary-Treasurer John Hawk of the S. I. U. said 23 ships were idle.

Shipping "Vitality Needed"

Chairman Emory S. Land, sending the commission's offer of aid to unions representing unlicensed personnel unions as well as to ship operators, said the strike was disrupting "shipping so vitally needed for national defense and all-out aid to democracies."

The union has sought unspecified bonuses for its men who go into war zones and has demanded a $60-a-month bonus for trips to the West Indies.

At San Diego, A. F. L. machinists, announcing the strike vote, said that a conference with Maj. R. H. Fleet, president of Consolidated Aircraft Corp., had failed to settle the union's demand for a flat 10-cent-an-hour wage increase for workers not covered by a minimum pay raise for beginners.

Mendota Train Service Abandonment Is Argued Before Commerce Body

Chicago, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Oral arguments were presented before the Illinois Commerce Commission today in two cases in which the Burlington railroad sought authority to abandon one daily round trip of a gas-electric mail, passenger and express car between Aurora and Streator and between Mendota and Streator.

The commission withheld its decision. James I. Shields, attorney for the railroad, argued for the abandonment on the ground the operations were losing about $6,000 a year and that dwindling patronage did not justify retaining the service. One daily round trip would be retained on each line.

R. H. Clark of Yorkville argued against abandonment, representing such interested communities as Ottawa, Oswego, Zeeland, LaSalle, Peru, Kasheer, Mendota, Aurora and Streator. He said abandonment of the service would handicap grain elevator operators using the mails, as well as the riding public.

T. S. Rowe and Richard Abrams, representing interested railroad brotherhoods, also spoke against the abandonment proposal.

LaSalle Man Sentenced to Indiana State Prison

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 22.—(AP)—George F. Kossow, 25, of LaSalle, Ill., was under sentence to two to 21 years in Pendleton state reformatory today after pleading guilty to voluntary manslaughter. Edward Dorio, 36, of Bridgeport, Conn., died after Kossow hit him on the head with a bottle during a fight in a railroad track gang camp Aug. 23.

Injection of Anti-Semitism Issue in Debate "Rat-Like", Declares Nye

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The issue of anti-Semitism is a "red herring" in the controversy over the United States' policy toward war, says Senator Gerald P. Nye (R-N. D.).

Nye, speaking at a heavily-policed America First Committee rally in Brooklyn, declared last night that "this attempt to paint the cause of non-intervention as an anti-Semitic cause has been about the meanest, smallest, rat-like thing that I have ever experienced in my contact with American politics."

"No one," he added, "has contributed to the dragging of this red herring to this controversy so largely as has one Wendell

Youth Meets Death' Under Tractor Near Mendota Yesterday

Pinned in Creek When Bank of Stream Gives Way Under Machine

(Telegraph Special Service)

Mendota, Sept. 23.—Gerald Richey, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Richey, who reside on the Mundie farm about two miles south of Mendota, met tragic death there between 5 and 6 o'clock Monday afternoon, while alone at home with his little brother, Hollis, when he was pinned in a creek under an overturned tractor.

While Mrs. Richey was in Mendota to get her husband, who is employed caring for machinery at the canning plant, Gerald took a tractor to go into the pasture to bring the cows in, and Hollis went along on a sled which he had tied to the tractor.

Creek Bank Collapses

When Gerald drove the machine too close to the bank of a small creek which runs through the farm, the bank collapsed, pitching the tractor into the stream with the youth under it, Hollis being jerked from beneath him. The frightened little brother watched helplessly as Gerald struggled vainly to keep his head above water, as the cruel pain of internal injuries sapped his strength. When the parents got home from Mendota their son was dead.

The youth, a sophomore in Mendota high school, is survived by his parents and the one brother. Funeral services will be held at the Mendota Methodist church at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the Rev. Biggar Dahl, pastor, officiating, and burial will be in Restland cemetery here.

Three Meet Death in Railway Crash

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A heavy freight engine, running without cars, collided head-on with the crack Western Pacific Exposition Flyer in a terrific crash some 40 miles east of here late last night. Three trainmen died and 10 other persons, seven of them passengers, were injured.

Engineer Frank Huff and Fireman A. A. Low, both of Oakland, were crushed and burned to death in the flyer's engine. Oscar Lane, 62, of Oakland, baggage man of the flyer, died later in a hospital. The roadbed was torn up for 300 feet, the rails bent like hairpins and the engines a tangled mass of smoking steel. Two cars were derailed and the flyer's baggage car was demolished.

There was no immediate explanation as to the cause of the collision.

Most of the passengers of the 10-car flyer, which had left San Francisco last night for Chicago, had retired by the time of the crash, about 10:30 p. m.

Passengers included: Mrs. Austin Hollandworth, 43, of Aurora, Ill.

Wreck of Bomber, Missing Fortnight, Seen in Mountains

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Two large rescue parties headed up Mount Constance in the Olympic today toward the spot where aerial searchers sighted the scattered wreckage of a twin-motor bomber.

Six men were aboard the eight-year-old ship when it vanished before dawn two weeks ago today. The aerial discoverers yesterday could see no signs of life on the Rocky mountain face.

Major H. H. Pennington, who was in one of the two planes which sighted the wreckage, told newsmen:

"The bomber apparently hit against the stone-faced peak of the mountain about 10 feet from the top then slid down a few feet to the edge of a 500-foot sheer cliff and fell over the cliff into a small ravine. It might have exploded just before going over the ledge."

Torturous Climb
"There was less left of the bomber from what we could see from the air than of the one that crashed near Morton last winter." (This crash killed seven men last January.)

To reach 7,700-foot Mount Constance, the searchers must travel a dozen miles up a mountain road to reach the mountain trail itself a five-hour grind under favorable conditions.

Major Pennington said there was no sign of a trail near where the wreckage was sighted, and estimated a day or more would be required for trail blazing through trees and over rocks to the crash scene.

Gulf Hurricane To Strike Texas Coast With Fury This Eve

Citizens Move Inland; Houses and Stores Battered Down

BULLETIN

Houston, Tex., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The tropical hurricane that has kept a fearful Texas gulf coast on edge for two or three days was believed nearing the shore in the vicinity of Freeport and Matagorda at noon today.

Coastguard headquarters at Galveston reported winds of 70 to 75 miles an hour at Freeport and 65 to 70 at Matagorda.

C. P. Kendall, Sr., editor of the Freeport Fact, said "the wind is howling through the town, but there has been very little damage so far. A number of small fishing and pleasure boats in the channel and along the river have been sunk."

Port O'Connor, Texas, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A rapidly-dropping barometer and a rising gale that blew in gusts up to 60 miles an hour at daybreak today indicated to coast guard observers here that a howling tropical hurricane was bearing down on this highly-exposed gulf coast fishing village.

The weather bureau's 8:45 a. m. (CST) advisory predicted that the furious blast, with winds up to 90 miles an hour whirling at its center, would pass inland between Port O'Connor and Freeport tonight. The center of the storm was located about 100 miles southeast of Port O'Connor and was moving this way at about six miles an hour.

Camp Hulen, training center for the coast artillery located near Palacios on dangerous Matagorda Bay, would lie near the center of the storm's path if it continues its present course. However, most of the 11,500 men stationed there are in Louisiana maneuvers and the others have been moved to safety at Wharton, Tex.

Citizens Prepared

Approximately 100 persons spent the night in the brick schoolhouse at Port O'Connor, planning to hold out during the blow. Another 400 had moved inland to Port Lavaca. Elsewhere along the Texas coast, where unusually high tides prevailed and higher water was forecast, lowland residents had moved out and houses and stores were battered down against the savage fury of the storm.

The barometer at Port O'Connor dropped from 29.47 at 4 a. m. to 29.41 at 6 p. m.

Boatmen at Port Aransas had hauled their fishing craft up into the sand dunes of Mustang island, and only 100 of approximately 500 residents remained.

Only Thoughts of Murder; Is Suicide

Chicago, Sept. 23.—(AP)—When police discovered in a west side hotel room the body of Solly Cohen, sought for the slaying of Mrs. Margaret Winefield, 58-year-old widow, they found this suicide note:

"I'm very sorry I had to kill the woman I did, but I was going to kill the first person I saw and it just happened to be her."

The widow was bludgeoned to death Saturday night in her apartment and the hunt for Cohen, 41-year-old ex-convict, ended yesterday when he was found shot to death.

Police Capt. Frank Gill said the note explained that "I learned to kill while I was in the army and I got more lessons while lying in prisons for 17 years. I thought of nothing but to kill someone."

The note told, Gill related, how Cohen spied from a hideout on two policemen detailed to watch for him at a radio shop where he had sold a watch taken from Mrs. Winefield's apartment.

"I sat across the alley watching them. It's a good thing they didn't see me, as I sure would have shot it out with them."

Gill said the man had spent approximately 17 years in prisons.

Illinois Will Observe Thanksgiving Early Again This Year, Says Governor

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The formal proclamation hasn't yet been issued by Governor Green, but Illinois will observe an early Thanksgiving again this year.

As soon as President Roosevelt proclaims the third Thursday in November—or Nov. 20—to be the Thanksgiving date Governor Green is expected to follow suit. He made known this was his intention when the president announced some time ago that this year the early plan would again be followed, but that in 1942 the nation would revert to the traditional last Thursday of November for the observance.

Green has said he believes there should be uniformity in the Thanksgiving date, particularly this year so men in the armed forces will be able to return to their homes for the holiday.

In 1940 Illinois was one of the 32 states which followed Roosevelt's lead in advancing the holiday one week, to increase the shopping period between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Last May, however, the president made known the plan was to be abandoned next year because he believed the change had resulted in little benefit to business.

German Onslaught on Leningrad Is Reported Stemmed by Russians

The War Today!

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

(Telegraph Special Service)

Developments of the past few days certainly must have forced British Premier Churchill and his advisers to give serious consideration to the idea of staging a modified invasion of the continent in the shape of big and thoroughly organized raids.

The government has refused to be stampeded by pressure of the English press into a premature full-dress invasion, because of the terrible risk of an allied catastrophe, and military experts generally have agreed that this represented the course of wisdom. However, the gravity of the Russian position in the Ukraine calls for a major distraction to relieve the Nazi pressure against the Muscovites.

This is especially true since further heavy reverses, strengthening the possibility that Hitler may break into the Caucasus, might easily draw Japan and Bulgaria into the war against the Soviet. Even Turkey might feel compelled to grant Hitler military concessions which would multiply allied difficulties.

The danger of an attempt at a general invasion of western Europe, lies in the fact that Britain would have to employ every warship she could lay her hands on. This massing of sea-power would present Hitler's Luftwaffe a never-to-be-forgotten target, and there is small doubt that he would fill the sky with warplanes from the eastern theater. A great naval disaster might mean the end of

Dixon Wrecker Burns,<sup>o</sup> Driver Gynn Escapes

Bruce Gynn escaped being burned last night about 11:30 when the wrecker truck he was operating caught fire and burned as he was on his way to Prairieville to answer a call. The driver of a stalled car had called the Gynn wrecker to Prairieville and enroute, the wrecking truck caught fire, presumably from wires connecting batteries which operated the wrecking crane. The flames had enveloped the rear of the truck when discovered by the driver, who hurriedly drove the truck off the highway and jumped from the cab. The wrecker was almost completely demolished and was hauled to a local garage after the flames had been extinguished.

Invading Nazi Army Thrown Back Seven Miles at Points

BULLETIN

Los Angeles, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A Moscow radio broadcast picked up here by NBC's western listening post said heavy snows were falling today on wide areas of the Russian-German battlefield.

(By The Associated Press)

Red army troops battling to save Leningrad were reported today to have stemmed the German onslaught in bitter fighting around Lake Ilmen, south of the old czarist capital, and hurled the Nazi invaders back seven miles in fierce bayonet charges elsewhere on the Leningrad front.

Red Star, Soviet army newspaper, said that the Germans lost up to 50,000 killed, wounded and captured in the Lake Ilmen fighting, and that the Russians had launched successful counterattacks.

By contrast, Nazi front-line dispatches indicated that the Red armies were in desperate straits along the entire front from Leningrad to the Black sea, and the German high command reported the destruction of 50 Soviet divisions—about 750,000 troops—including 380,000 prisoners captured in the bloody trap 125 miles east of Kiev.

Even the Russian counter-offensive on the central front was declared to have been halted.

"Many Soviet units lost two-thirds or more of their strength in attempts to dash against the German lines," Nazi dispatches said of fighting on the central front.

"The bolsheviks literally stormed over the corpses of the slain into German fire. They were thrown back everywhere."

Report Reds In Retreat
Italian reports pictured the Russians in chaotic retreat in the Ukraine, abandoning their heavy guns as they fled.

In London, Russian Ambassador Ivan M. Maisky declared that in three months of war Germany has lost 3,000,000 men in killed, wounded or missing—one-third of the entire Nazi army.

Maisky described the German high command's report last week on German losses as "utterly ridiculous". The high command, on Sept. 19, placed Nazi losses in the first two months of the war at only 55,896 dead, 269,670 wounded and 20,299 missing.

On the diplomatic front, the Germans declared bluntly that

Russians Estimates German Casualties at Three Millions

London, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Three million Germans—one third of the Nazi army—have been killed, wounded or are missing after three months of war with Russia, Soviet ambassador Ivan M. Maisky declared today in an address before the American Chamber of Commerce.

The German high command's announcement last week concerning German losses was "utterly ridiculous," he asserted, calling his own estimate a moderate one. He added that the Germans had lost 8,500 planes in the Russian campaign.

(The German high command on Sept. 19 announced these as Germany's army and air force losses in the first two months of the Russian war: 85,896 dead, 269,670 wounded, 20,299 missing, 725 planes lost.)

Maisky conceded that Russia, like Germany, had suffered heavy losses and that "the enemy has occupied important industrial districts and the Russians had to evacuate a number of factories and plants, and some time must elapse before they can start again on new sites."

Issues Warning
Warning against "dangerous" complacency, which he said arose from glib talk of amateur strategists about "Generals Winter and Mud," he said the facts proved that the Nazi war machine still was strong.

Many New Records Are Set by DHIA During Past Year

More Than 55 Per Cent Of Cows Tested Are Holsteins

For the second consecutive year, Illinois dairy herds set at least three new records in dairy herd improvement association work during the past year, it is reported by C. S. Rhode and J. G. Cash, extension dairy specialists of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

More cows were on test and there were more associations and cooperators than ever before, on January 1. A total of 2,036 co-operators in 87 counties had 40,982 cows under test in 85 associations. More than 10 per cent of all the herds of 10 or more cows in the state are enrolled, and one out of every five herds is affiliated with a cooperative breeding association.

The average of 8,592 pounds of milk and 355 pounds of butterfat for the 39,386 cows tested in 1940 is the highest ever recorded in Illinois. This record exceeds the 1939 average by 10.4 pounds of butterfat and 251 pounds of milk. A total of 220 herds averaged more than 400 pounds, and six averaged more than 500 pounds.

McHenry county had the largest number of cows under test, 4,568, and also the largest number of associations, which totaled six. Kane county, with 3,270 cows or 11 per cent of all cows in the county, ranked first in percentage of cows under test and second in the number under test.

Other Leading Counties

Other leading counties among the first 10 in numbers of cows under test were Stephenson, 2,619 cows; Lake, 1,927; Winnebago, 1,669; Boone, 1,532; Will, 1,114; McLean, 1,026; Kankakee, 1,002, and DuPage, 988.

Trailing Kane county in percentage of cows on test were Lake county, with 10.8 per cent; McHenry, 9.6; Boone, 8.8; Stephenson, 8.7; Winnebago, 7.8; DuPage, 7.4; Kankakee, 7; Tazewell, 6.3, and Moultrie, 5.9.

More than 55 per cent of all the cattle tested during the year were Holsteins. Thus the breed had distinction of having more cattle on test than all others combined. Guernseys, with 18.8 per cent followed Holsteins, with Jerseys 12.7; Brown Swiss 5.1; Short-horn 1.4, and cattle of mixed breeding 6.1 per cent. Purebreds accounted for 34 per cent of all cows on test.

The average yearly feed cost for each cow varied from $45.79 for the cows producing less than 150 pounds of butterfat to $78.17 for those producing more than 500 pounds, a difference of $32.38. However, the returns above feed costs showed a wider variation. Those producing less than 150 pounds returned only $4 above feed cost, while those in the 500-pound group returned $155.95. A gain of 350 pounds of fat resulted in an increase of $151.95, in returns above feed cost, or resulted in $19 for each 50 pounds of gain in production of fat.

Ten cows with an average production of 422 pounds of butterfat returned as much over feed cost as 24 cows that averaged 228 pounds of fat.

More than half of the 6,753 cows culled during the year were taken from the herds because of low production. Udder trouble - mostly mastitis - abortion and sterility accounted for the rest of the culls.

The average production of many herds has been boosted and the returns increased from culling out the marginal, inefficient cows.

Technical Help to Ogle County Farm Men Is Important

The organization of a soil conservation in Ogle county to continue the technical assistance to Ogle county farmers in carrying on soil conservation practices started by the Federal Soil Conservation Service and the CCC Camp is a subject of primary importance in the program of the Ogle County Farm Bureau and other cooperating organizations in the county this fall, according to D. E. Warren, Farm Advisor at Oregon. The committee consisting of F. F. Coffman, German Valley; Ed L. Stengel, Mt. Morris; Robert Buford, Oregon; Everett Johnson, Oregon; L. B. Swingle, Oregon, members of the board of the Soil Conservation Association, and Howard Webster, Polo and Dwight Price, Oregon, members of the Farm Bureau board of directors, have been authorized to proceed with a program of informational activity to get farmers of the county acquainted with the type of work that can be done through a district organization.

To Enlarge Committee

The committee will be enlarged to fifty or more members representing all parts of the county and other organizations that are interested in agricultural matters, to determine the boundary of the proposed district and be instrumental in passing on information to all farmers in the county. A meeting of these leaders is to be held at which representatives of the University of Illinois and the state soil conservation districts committee will be present to discuss the proposed planning. It is said that the success of conservation practices that have started in the county have met with so much success that interest in these things is on the increase and that more farmers are wanting to know how they can secure assistance to do these things.

HIGH SELLERS

Lee county cattle were among those reported selling at the extreme top of the Wednesday market recently at the Chicago Stock Yards.

The high sellers from this county consisted of a drove of Aberdeen-Angus steers that averaged 114 pounds each. They sold without sorting at $12.75 per cwt. on the bid of New York butchers.

SOY BEANS

The long and precipitate advance, which had carried prices for all of the new crop futures and for the few old crop beans which were on the market, more than $1.25 above the low price recorded on this old crop, apparently culminated last week, when May contracts penetrated the $2.00 level. When prices first halted and started down, selling pressure from every source increased perceptibly, stop loss sales being an important factor and the market closed lower for seven consecutive days. Perfect weather for maturing the crop and increased estimates of yield, the government report showing nearly 111 million bushels, have been responsible for the change in sentiment. Reports are almost unanimous that a very small proportion of the total crop will be cut for hay, whereas the government estimate was based upon only 59 per cent of the total seeded acreage being harvested as beans. Soybean meal advanced spectacularly with the beans but declined as rapidly, and is currently quoted around $41 a ton. Oil prices, however, while not exceeding those prevailing for old crop production early in the summer, have held firm around the top, which is still below comparable levels with bean prices.

CORN

Largely influenced by the action of wheat, corn prices also established new high records for the season and for several years. May selling nearly 20c above the probable loan prices to be announced next month for the 1941 crop which, however, will represent corn on the farms and not in Chicago. The storage situation caused a further pronounced widening of discounts, September selling at more than 6c under December and No. 2 Yellow now being quoted on track at 7½c under December and is further complicated by prospects of an unusually early harvest, new crop corn having already arrived in Chicago and Kansas City. The local car graded 4 Yellow, and tested only 18.9 per cent moisture but the best price obtainable was under 12c under December. In face of the excited advance in futures, the Commodity Credit Corporation continued to offer No. 2 Yellow corn out of Chicago at 78c loaded, but did advance their asking price by 1c in both Kansas City and Omaha. Official and private crop reports indicate much of the crop is already safe from possible frost damage and that practically all of it will be made before the end of this month. A further increase in the hog-corn ratio, which was reported for the current week at 14.6, is an additional incentive for increased feeding.

BUTTER AND EGGS

After holding steady at about the high point of the season and for several years, prices declined sharply this week. Speculative buying stimulated by repeated statements from official sources demanding increased production and guaranteeing prices, finally gave out and when cash prices broke, rather sharply, liquidation developed in a market practically devoid of support. Monthly storage stocks showing over 200 million lbs. of butter were considered bearish by the trade, but the egg figures, 6,134,000 cases and a total case equivalent of shell and frozen eggs of only 11,676,000 cases were construed as bullish.

To Ask Illinois Farmers To Help Conserve Crops

Special Allotments Are Retained Under 1942 Program

The Illinois farmers will be asked to devote 20 per cent of their cropland to conserving crops under the 1942 AAA farm program it has been announced by Lee M. Gentry, Chairman of the Illinois Agricultural Conservation Committee.

This notice, received by the Lee County Conservation Committee, means that farmers will be called upon to adjust their farming to national defense needs. By asking for a minimum acreage of land in conserving crops, the 1942 AAA also encourages greater soil conservation.

The decision on the 1942 program was made at a meeting of State AAA committeemen from the ten states in the North Central region meeting in Chicago a few days ago.

Special allotments are retained under the 1942 program for such surplus crops as corn and wheat. There will be no total soil depleting allotments, however, which means that farmers can put up to 80 per cent of their cropland in their special crops - soybeans, oats or other feed grains.

How It Works

For example, if a farmer has 100 acres of cropland, he is required to devote 20 acres to conserving crops. If he has a 30 acre corn allotment, and a 10 acre wheat allotment, he can put the remaining 40 acres in any other grain-crop he wishes.

The soil building allowance will be computed on the basis of the difference between the acres of crops under special allotments and the total cropland. This difference is multiplied by 70 cents to determine the amount which can be earned by soil building practices.

Some of the crops classified as conserving under the program are perennial grasses or legumes, biennial legumes, lespedeza, or annual sweet clover, cover crops, forest trees, sudan millet, annual ryegrass, summer fallow, and idle land on which terraces are constructed.

Under the new plan, payments will be subject to a deduction of 5 per cent for each 1 per cent of the cropland not devoted to the required conserving crops.

Ogle County Farm Leaders Continue Plans for Crops

Information on farm planning which was begun a year ago in Ogle County was continued in a meeting last week at which Farm Advisors and representatives of the agricultural Conservation Association, Farm Securities Administration and Soil Conservation Service were present. J. B. Cunningham, J. B. Andrews and other of the University of Illinois Department of Farm Management conducted a school in which those in attendance were asked to outline a plan for a 1942 crop and livestock system for a particular farm as a means of transition from the present farming system to an agreed better future program.

This process of farm planning is to be presented to farm groups in the county to assist them in managing their farms to the best financial advantage and to make use of the best conservation methods that are being advocated through the Farm Bureau, the Agricultural Extension Service and associated organizations.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

First it was dried eggs—and now it's boned chicken!

The government is buying food in as concentrated a form as possible these days—and the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation has just announced that it intends to purchase a quantity of canned, boned chicken.

This announcement followed on the heels of the Secretary of Agriculture's statement that the existing emergency made it necessary to encourage the production of hogs, eggs, evaporated milk, dry skim milk, cheese and chickens. The Department, he said, through loans, purchases or other operations will support a price for producers of these foods or not less than 85 per cent of parity.

We have all been wondering exactly how the government was going to make good on its guarantee of an average price of 15 cents for chickens, Chicago basis. This is the first move to support the poultry market. How much effect it will have remains to be seen.

There is no question of the government's intention to offer all the encouragement necessary to get another 10 per cent increase in production next year. The goal set for 1942 is 4 billion dozen eggs and 750 million head of chickens slaughtered.

Demand is for Concentrated Food

It is obvious that if this increased production is to be absorbed at a price that is satisfactory to the producers, chickens as well as eggs must be packed so they will be practical for the use of the army, the navy, and even for Britain.

The army has already bought 740,000 pounds of eviscerated quick frozen poultry, which is ready to cook. I notice that this fall, during the maneuvers in Louisiana, the men will eat boneless beef. Boned, the meat requires only half the shipping space needed when it's on the carcass. And the cooks say there's no waste and no trouble.

The boned canned chicken would have the same advantage and would not require refrigeration, which is not available in the field.

In the cities, where more people are employed and where household and restaurant help is getting scarce, we notice a sudden increase in the demand for quick frozen.

Wheat Growers In Lee County Can Afford to Seed Within AAA Program

Wheat growers in Lee county can afford to seed within AAA allotments as a result of the price protection given by the AAA farm program, it is pointed out by Dale D. Rosenkrans, chairman of the Lee County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Furthermore, he said, farmers will be able to transfer the acreage they take out of wheat to growing other crops on which there will be no limits next year. Such crops, needed for agricultural defense, are expected to be soybeans, flax, castor beans, tomatoes, sweet corn, and other vegetables used for canning.

This price available to wheat growers is the total of the $1.15 per bushel government loan, 8 cents a bushel allotment payment, and 10 cents per bushel parity payment. The allotment and parity payments can be earned for co-operation under the AAA wheat program.

Wheat prices in other world wheat producing nations are between 50 and 55 cents a bushel, Mr. Rosenkrans declared. Without effective adjustments of production and marketing in the United States, wheat could not be expected to be higher here.

Receive Allotments

All farmers are being urged by

AAA committeemen to plant within their 1942 wheat allotments, which they were given several weeks ago. Failure to cooperate reduces the effectiveness of the program and endangers the wheat price structure.

The prospect of continuing the marketing quota on the 1942 crop also is a reason for farmers to stay within allotments. Mr. Rosenkrans said. However, another referendum will be held to determine whether farmers want the quota another year. If approved by two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum, farmers will be restricted in their sale or feeding of wheat to grain grown on acreage allotments. The marketing quota, applicable only years when the wheat supply is far above what the nation will consume and require for export, is designed to give each producer his fair share of a limited market. Growers are penalized if they attempt to sell more than their share, but if they have surpluses, they are encouraged to store the excess wheat until such a time that it may be released for sale. The grower who one year has accumulated an excess by seeding over his allotment, may obtain release of the excess by making a corresponding adjustment in his wheat acreage the following year.

Dixon College Student To Serve on Rural Life And Welfare Committee

Carl Gasaway of Dixon, a sophomore at Southern Illinois Normal University, was one of those selected this week by the Student Council to represent the student body on the standing faculty committee for 1941-1942. The Student Council selects two outstanding students from the student body each year to serve on each faculty committee. Gasaway will serve on the committee on Rural Life and Welfare.

Active in extra-curricular activities, Gasaway is a member of the Agricultural club and of the Socratic Literary society. A member of Alpha Gamma Mu, honorary agricultural fraternity, Gasaway plans to major in agriculture. He is also employed on the campus as student assistant in the office of the dean of men.

The Air Corps is increasing its training rate for technicians from 45,000 a year to 100,000 a year.

Mrs. Straw Is Named County AAA Fieldwoman

The Lee County Agricultural Conservation Committee announced the appointment of Mrs. Cenie M. Straw of 115 West Everett street, Dixon, as county AAA fieldwoman in charge of women's and educational activities in connection with the farm program. The aim of Mrs. Straw's work will be to get a better understanding of agriculture among both urban and rural groups. Mr. Rosenkrans, chairman of the county committee explained. She will be especially concerned with agriculture's part in the national defense program.

The appointment of a woman to work with the county AAA farm program organization recognizes the importance of the farm housewife in farming activities, he pointed out.

Mr. Rosenkrans extended an offer to any civic or public groups or educational institutions, both rural and urban of Mrs. Straw's services. She will be available to supply reading material, appear on programs or work with discussion groups. She can be reached through the county AAA office.

Mrs. Straw has been engaged in rural activities for a number of years, as a leader in the Lee County Home Bureau, in the publicity department of the Woman's club in Dixon and in the Lee County Tuberculosis Association.

Mrs. Straw has been a farm homemaker for a number of years and only recently moved to Dixon to make her home.

Forums Plans Second Annual Lecture Series

That members of The Forum plan to bring another series of lectures to Dixon this season is welcome news to their townspeople, who enjoyed the group's first lecture series last year. Of particular interest is the announcement that Sam Campbell, beloved philosopher of the woods, has been booked for a return engagement this season.

Preliminary plans for the winter programs were discussed last evening, when The Forum members met in Lowell park for a steak fry. The sponsors expect to bring at least four, and possibly five, speakers to their lecture platform, and probably will present their first program in November.

Reservations may be made now with any member of The Forum. No single admission tickets will be available for any program, although groups will be permitted to purchase single tickets in blocks, in advance.

Clyde Buckingham, Gene Goddard, Miss Mila Wahnke, and John W. Mills compose the committee. Representatives of other civic groups that are interested in the project will be invited to assist with final arrangements.

The next meeting of The Forum will take place in two weeks at the Buckingham home.

Players Repeat Harrison Comedy at Illini Hall

The Grand Detour Players' straw hat theater in Illini hall at Grand Detour enters its fifteenth consecutive week this week, with a return engagement of last week's show, "Why Wives Worry."

Charles F. Harrison, eminent author of "Why Wives Worry," has taken a page from everyday life in the writing of this mad-cap farce. From the opening curtain, through three hilarious, laugh-filled acts, the tempo is fast and furious, matched only by the quick and spontaneous laughter of the audience.

The story reveals what happens when two men of the same name both attempt to deceive their wives at the same time, and in the same house.

The same cast that delighted last week's audiences will be seen again this week. It includes Joan Norlander, Toni Lumley, John Cosgrove, Maurice Blythe, Don Randall, Director Richard Vernon, and two newcomers, Peggy Bryhn and George Bailey, who made their debut to Rock river valley audiences last week.

With the waning of the summer season, the Players cannot promise to continue their productions indefinitely, and there may be only a few more opportunities to enjoy their performances before the theater closes.

"Why Wives Worry" will open on Thursday evening and continue through Sunday night. A matinee performance has been scheduled for 2:30 p. m.

A Thought For Today

He that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth of faith; for what-soever is not of faith is sin.—Romans 14:23.

Fear that makes faith may break faith.—Swinburne.

Pattern For Future Taxation?

Some time after Mr. Roosevelt was first elected President, some one asked him his opinion about a federal sales tax. The President was quoted indirectly as saying he was horrified by the thought. The reference, of course, was to a general sales tax on all commodities.

Nevertheless, we now are paying what is, in effect, a federal sales tax on gasoline, as you may learn by consulting your gas station proprietor next time you "fill 'er up." Also you will learn, if you will ask the proprietor of your favorite theater, that there is a sales tax on motion picture tickets, or tickets to any amusement operated for profit. It is not a sales tax in name, but it amounts to that.

The new tax bill just completed by congress contains at least three more items that might be called sales taxes. If a swain buys a diamond ring with the hope of winning some lady's heart, or if a married man buys his wife a necklace, there is a 10 per cent tax. It applies to all jewelry sold at retail. Even a fountain pen, if it features precious metals placed thereon purely for ornament, becomes an article of jewelry, and is subject to the federal sales tax. After the new tax bill goes into effect fur coats, neck pieces and fur collars will be subject to a tax. Also there will be a tax on cosmetics such as face powder, nail polish, rouge and lipsticks. Jewelry, furs and cosmetics, of course, are luxuries and would be thought of first by a congress in search of revenue sources. Entertainment is a luxury. But gasoline is no luxury. It is a necessity, without which our civilization would cease to function properly. Thus we now have sales taxes on items both in the luxury and necessity class.

There is another item. Congress, taking a lesson from some of the state, imposed a $5 "use tax" on automobiles.

The principles are now established. Congress has demonstrated its ability to impose sales taxes on both luxuries and necessities, and to impose "use taxes" as well. There are countless other articles on which sales taxes can be imposed by the federal government, and these will fall upon them at the right time. There are countless articles upon which use taxes can be imposed, and these will come.

There was once a statesman who talked with an inventor. The inventor—was he Marconi, Watt, or

Bell or some other?—demonstrated his device. The statesman looked at the invention—was it the wireless, telephone or steam engine?—and asked:

"But what use could people possibly make of it?"

The inventor ruined the statesman's day by replying:

"That sir, is something which could be taxed!"

Test For Pan Americanism

The United States should rally immediately and strongly behind Mexico's proposal for a collective Pan American effort to end the two-month border war between Peru and Ecuador.

This is a test of practical Pan Americanism. We peoples of the Western Hemisphere have made a great ado about the peaceful settlement of disputes. Do we mean what we say?

The war now shaking the world is primarily about this one thing: shall 500 years of effort to find ways of peacefully settling international disputes be junked by every militarist who sees a chance to get what he wants by force?

The free peoples of the world say no. Blood is being poured out to back up that no. But in the meantime, since July 5, bloody fighting along the Peru-Ecuador border has been breaking out every week or so because the machinery for adjustment of the dispute has not functioned.

It is good to see Mexico take the lead in this matter by calling for joint action by all the American nations. It will not be possible to suggest now that the United States is trying to bullyrag any small American nations into any course. The United States can and should join now with Mexico, Argentina and Brazil in a dynamic effort to bring reason and good sense to bear on the Peru-Ecuador situation.

The United States has only the friendliest feeling toward both countries and both peoples. It is not pre-judging the case, and it will not be greatly influenced by floods of hysterical propaganda which have come from the south. It is not a question of who is right. It is a question of what means shall be adopted to show who is right.

In a world which has relapsed into the law of the jungle in international affairs, the American nations must keep one area of the world under the law of reason and civilization; we have a duty to keep a torch of sanity alight in a world which has progressively darkened for 10 weary years.

The United States wants to exert no Colossus-pressure on two small South American nations. But it should and must join emphatically with the other Pan American countries which are pledged to peace to exert a united pressure on both countries, first, to establish a temporary boundary and stop the fighting, and second, to set in motion arbitration or other machinery for the permanent healing of this sore spot on the body of an otherwise healthy Western Hemisphere.

Marshall Field III, who inherited one of the nation's greatest fortunes, says he doesn't care what becomes of it. The line forms on the right.

Hugh S. Johnson Writes From Capital During Mallon's Illness

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.

Washington, Sept. 23.—This is another column about the slaughter of the innocents that is as sure as sunrise to happen in this country as the vast war production with its arbitrary priorities goes forward into full blast. I mean the widespread destruction of the little fellow in business and the jobs of his employees.

The pressure is only beginning to be felt but the program has only started. When it gets into full swing the casualties are going to run into the tens of thousands and the justified squawking will create universal sympathy and probably universal soreness—which is bad for both unity and confidence in governmental management.

Farming out of war orders by the fall fellows is just a mustard plaster, first because most of these establishments are not equipped to take them and second because it slows production, reduces quality, increases cost and will be done with reluctance and half a heart by those under a stern responsibility for results in military and naval supply.

The problem rarely arose during World War I, because the demand was much less since this possibility had been foreseen and provided for and because much of technical military manufacture was contracted for abroad, we furnishing replacement raw material. It is all different now. We are the arsenal of democracy—including Russia and China.

It is high time before the slaughter commences to consider means to offset the destruction and the creation here of the greatest monopolistic concentration of business this country has ever known.

The bearing of this sacrifice is not like taxes, assessed on ability to pay, a principle of relative equality and leaving the bulk of small business in both manufacture and sale at least alive. Now it is literally to be wiped out on no rule of equality whatever but because government administration will simply permit these people no supplies with which to carry on their business.

It is a difficult problem but not without its precedent. For centuries in the law of the sea there has been a principle called the "Rule of General Average." It has varied as among different maritime nations and at different times. It offers complications and only recently—in the last 50 years—has it become more uniform throughout the world. Still it is complicated and not to be compressed into a single principle.

But generally speaking it is something like this. When a ship is in distress and some of her cargo has to be jettisoned (thrown overboard) to save the rest, or when there is a fire and the sea has to be let in on some of the cargo to keep all from being destroyed, or when the ship itself has to be run ashore to prevent loss of the whole cargo and in several similar circumstances, the loss to the owners of the destroyed freight is not permitted to fall solely upon its owners. An attempt is made to average the loss over all the owners of all the cargo saved by this sacrifice of the owners of the destroyed cargo.

It seems to me that the principle and its application are very similar to the misfortune we are about to meet and that thought should be immediately given to this or some other application of the ancient rule of justice to the brand new circumstances in which we are bound to find ourselves.

There is a dangerous, if slowly rising, resentment growing up in this country already over the airy, unplanned and arbitrary application of harsh sacrificial laws by men untrained in their application and apparently heedless of their destructive effects. Can't this administration ever learn to act in time to avert or cushion unnecessary and unfair war burdens?

Officers' Status at Stake as War Games Approach Their End

Maneuvers in Louisiana Will Be Resumed Wednesday Morning

With Second Army, Sept. 23—(AP)—While high ranking commanders of the Second Army gathered at Camp Polk in central Louisiana today for a critical analysis of the first half of the nation's big war games, the 125,000 troops of Lieut. General Ben Lear moved into position for the second half.

The problem, renewing hostilities through the hilly swamp country of north and central Louisiana, is scheduled to begin at 12:01 a. m. (CST) Wednesday, but the troops were shifted beforehand to the restraining line for a quick jump into action.

The realignment of strength sent the Second armored division of Fort Benning, Ga., to the Third Army and brought under the Red colors of General Lear two tank-killing battalions that had worn the blue of Lieut.-General Walter Krueger.

Get Orders Tonight

Details of the problem were not known even to the two army commanders. They will get their orders tonight. It was apparent, however, that the Second Army would be on the defensive and the Third Army the attacker, reversing the situation from that of the first problem.

Outnumbered five to two last week, the shifts will make the odds even heavier against General Lear's army.

The new battle line stretches from Monroe in north-central Louisiana 100 miles southwestward through Leesville in central Louisiana and into Texas past Jasper, Shreveport, La., will be the main city in the Second Army's territory and Alexandria, La., the principal city in the blue area.

The maneuvers are scheduled to end by next weekend when the troopers will return to their home posts throughout the United States.

Officers On Spot

With Third Army, Sept. 23—(AP)—A thousand officers, who have directed the greatest peace-time force of American soldiers ever placed in the field, were summoned today to Camp Polk to hear the man who has headed the training program of the new army explain who was wrong in the first week's war game between the Second and the Third armies.

The lecturer was Lieut. General Lesley J. McNair, chief of the army general headquarters staff, who wastes few words. Through the year he has visited camp after camp, checking the instruction of the million-odd men who have been enlisted or inducted into national service.

Scores Have Resigned

The war department has rankly said that the status of most field officers would depend on their records in the fall maneuvers. Already scores have resigned because of the prospect of a reclassification and others have been reshuffled to jobs that do not involve field leadership or tactical ability.

The official critique on the first five-day maneuver of the Louisiana war games was restricted to comparatively few officers of the Second and Third Armies.

Already the maneuver, in which the Second Army commanded by Lieut. General Ben Lear ended virtually trapped by the Third Army led by Lieut. General Walter Krueger, had been discussed in staff meetings over the weekend.

Strange Story of Bishop Hill, Once Metropolis Is Told

Bishop Hill, Ill., Sept. 23—(AP)—On the 95th anniversary of its founding by Swedish Janssons, Bishop Hill recalled today the brief span of years during which it was the biggest city between Peoria and Rock Island.

To quaint buildings of Swedish architecture, where handicraft and oil paintings refresh memories of the colony's brief prosperity, home-comers were welcomed by the village's 199 residents.

In 1846 Bishop Hill was founded by Erik Jansson, a farmer who burned hymnbooks and catechisms in his belief that only the Bible should be used in religious services. Breaking with the established church in Sweden, he led his followers to Henry county and established a communistic colony that was wrecked by dissension and adversity by the time the Civil war was being fought. At one time the population was 1,500.

In quiet streets and old homes, visitors today saw:

Today's Sights

The ravine in which Jansson and his followers lived in dugouts during the winter of 1846-47, when 96 died.

The grave of Jansson, who was murdered in 1850 during internal squabbles that eventually led to the equal distribution of community property and abandonment of his religious teachings.

The steeple building of molded stucco, in which a clock without a minute hand has been running since 1859. To the colonists, clock watching was not important.

The old colony church, now a community hall and a museum for 93 oil paintings by Olaf Krans, a blacksmith and self-taught artist.

The site of the communal living quarters, which burned in 1928. The ground there is now a ball park, symbolic of changing times.

Believed to be the only survivor of the early residents is Jonas Olander, 88, who lives on a nearby farm. He was nine years old when the colony was dissolved.

Rhode Island had the lowest recorded human reproduction rate in 1940 with 70 as compared with the U. S. average of 96. New Mexico was high with 118.

Burial was in Precinct cemetery near Earlville.

Francis Earl White was born in Fairfield, Neb., March 10, 1875, the eldest son of George and Sarah Avery White, and moved to Earlville with his parents in his early boyhood.

He learned the baker's trade at Earlville and operated a bakery there until moving to Amboy in 1936. He operated the Amboy bakery for two years and later sold his interest in the business. ## TYPEWRITER TUNES FOR TUESDAY

Pete Phalen, as ardent a White Sox fan as you'll find anywhere, almost lost his faith Sunday. Pete was on hand for that doubleheader with Detroit. We won't rub it in by repeating the scores.

... first-nighters ... Bill Thompson and his lass, Jeanne Thompson, will be in the radio audience tonight when Bob Hope's new winter series for a tooth paste company goes into the air waves. ... Bill yesterday got a wire from Hope who was a guest at the Thompson home during the movie-land celebration here in mid-month. We quote "Dear Bill, Will have tickets for you and will leave them at the Blackstone hotel desk just ask clerk for your tickets if anything goes wrong call me at the Blackstone best regards, Bob Hope" ... there's no punctuation in a telegram ... but ours would be: ! ! ! ! ! tonight's show will include Skinny Ennis and his band, Jerry Colonna (who also visited here with the movie stars) and Frances Langford ... it will be aired over WMAQ and broadcast from studios in the Merchandise Mart ... it's on cloudy days like this when we wonder if some people don't get all the breaks ...

... watching the nags (fancy ones) ... Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hasselberg and daughter, Sarah, J. L. Glassburn, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dysart and daughter, Mary Louise, and Dorothy Meyer were among those to attend the horse show in Freepoint Sunday ... the show was held at Taylor Park ... sponsored by the Elks club ... benefit for crippled children.

... White Sockerues ... Doug Curran, Cleo Baker, Delmar "Dutch" Gordon, Theda Emmole and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Yeast went to Chicago Sunday to see the White Sox in the doubleheader with the Tigers ...

... fisherman's luck ... Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hartman and Mr. and Mrs. Michael McMahon have returned from a fishing trip in northern Minnesota ... as proof of their talents with hook-line-and-sinker they brought home some fine specimens of wall-eye pike ... on Saturday Mrs. McMahon (registered nurse at the Dixon State hospital) caught the limit of wall-eye for a single day ... place: on a lake 20 miles south of International Falls where they camped ... how soon can you guys be ready to leave? ...

... table tennis novelty ... banker's handicap, which swept to popularity in golf here this season will be employed in table tennis competition now ... Lloyd Phelps has announced a banker's handicap tournament to be held Oct. 7 at the Elks club ... open to all paddle-men ... equal chance for all ... entries may be made with Phelps or at the Telegraph sports department (us) ... entry fee: 50 cents ... one half for expenses to Elks and half to buy six prizes ... players will pick their own handicaps ...

... rest in peace ... the Nos. 3 and 4 greens at Plum Hollow will not be disturbed this fall ... plans for remodeling them will be left until spring ... new sod will be put down ... Frank Randall has changed his plans for revising them now because players don't like to play on temporary greens ...

... open date ... Coach Lindell's Dixon Dukes have an open date this week end ... nothing now until the game at DeKalb on Oct. 3 ... that will be the conference opener ... and DeKalb really has a team this year ... Bill Watricks of Rochelle told us about the Barbs after the Hubs were defeated, 19 to 0, last week end ... he says they are streamlined ... have excellent timing in backfield ... but we have the word of Shorty Hoeman and Clell Weidman that things will be different when the Dukes play again ...

Warren (fresh) and Wanda (senior) ... they hope to see Warren play in the annual morning game between the freshmen of Coe and Cornell ... about the first week in November ... Mrs. Walder ... an ardent Cubs' fan until this year—has lost her faith ... wouldn't even know the lineup this year ...

BOWMAN SHOES STEP OUT INTO LEAD LAST EVE

K. Slaats Rolls High Series With 457 For Dr. Bend's Quint

Fancy manicures which haven't been scratched by the finger grips of a bowling ball for several months now, probably got some rough treatment last night as the women bowlers of the city "let down their hair" and opened the 1941-42 kiegling season at the Dixon Recreation.

Only one quintet — Bowman Shoes—was able to put on walking boots and step out into the lead with a three-game sweep. M. Miller of the Rainbow Inn team too high game honors in the opening night with a 180 game and K. Slaats of Dr. Bend's club rolled 457 for high series.

The Dixon Cafe gals captured high team score with an 862 game and the Nu-Fashion Beauty Nook rolled 2422 for high team series. In winning three games the Bowman Shoes spilled Kathryn Beard's outfit. Leading the winners was Hoberg with a 442 series while Poole counted 416 to pace the losers.

Eichler Bros. Win Eichler Bros. won two games from Christus Grocery. Pacing the winners was Neff with 391 and Schertner counted 401 for the losers.

Budweiser Gardens took two games from the Dixon Floral Shop as P. Carson counted 455 for the losers and Harwood's 426 was tops for the Gardens.

Plum Hollow scored a two-game victory over Dixon Cafe with Herman's 397 leading the "golfers" and Kinn counting 375 for the cafe quintet.

Nu-Fashion Beauty Nook won two games from Dr. Bend's. Leading the winners was E. Hackbarth with a 441 series and a 457 count by Slaats was tops for the losers. Villiger Drug Store scored a two-game victory over Frazier Roofing. Huyett counted 419 for the winners and Hecker's 384 was best score turned in by the losers.

Peter Piper's Win Peter Piper's won two games from Rainbow Inn. Leading the "country dining room" gals (attired in slacks) was L. McCordle with a 430 count. Topping the Inn lassies was Myers with 429.

Lorene Beauty Service won two games from the Manhattan Cafe. Leading the winners was Oester with 347 and Corso counted 351 for the losers.

Oregon State Coach Resents All Underrating

Corvallis, Ore., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Hey, what's this? Here's a college football coach who objects to having the scribes underrate his team!

The Gridiron coach running counter to all the accepted rules of the lodge is Alonzo Stiner, the still-young Nebraskan who is coaching the Oregon State college Beavers.

He's piloted his Beaver into third place in Pacific Coast conference standings for the past three years. This year, because he has lost some name stars such as Fullback Jim Kesselburgh and Guard Leonard Younce, the experts are giving Oregon State a second division brushoff.

But Stiner counters the loss of 11 lettersmen with these facts: 21 Lettermen Return He's got 21 lettermen returning, and a fine batch of hand-picked sophomores. His squad is sizable and beefy and fast. He probably will be able to use two complete teams, substituting by team rather than individual. And he's got subs for both teams.

"So we won't win a game. Huh?" Stiner grumbles. "Well, we will, lots of 'em. We may not win the conference championship, but we've got a club that can make it hot for anybody, and we should knock off one or two of the big fellows along the way."

The Timermen open their season Saturday against the Howard Jones-less university of Southern California eleven at Los Angeles.

VILLANOVA'S HALFBACK HAS NEW IDEA—COSMIC KICK

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Lou Nova's cosmic punch and Frank Kovacs' cosmic stroke have given Villanova's star halfback Joe Yednock an idea—the cosmic kick.

It isn't clear just what elements make up such a boot but Coach Clipper Smith doesn't mind so long as the ball continues to travel from 60 to 70 yards. Yednock's kicks have been doing just that.

An ordinary kicker who saw light action last year, Joe is a changed player this fall. He insists the kicking idea came to him suddenly while reading about the cosmic antics of Nova and Kovacs.

Now when he goes back to punting position fellow students yell for "The cosmic Joe." He'll do most of Villanova's kicking this fall.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Johnny Niggeling, Browns — Blanked Indians, 5-0, with seven hits.

Curt Davis, Dodgers — Tossed six-hitter to shut out Phillies, 5-0.

Alton Benton, Tigers — Shut out White Sox with five hits in seven innings performance.

Carl Hubbel, Giants and Phil Masi, Reds — Hubbel pitched nine-hit ball for 5-3 opener victory; Masi's ninth-inning double drove in winning run for 2-1 nightcap decision.

Brooklyn Has Best Pitching Staff of Any of the Three Possible Clubs Which May Play in Series Next Week

By GAYLE TALBOT New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—On the record, Brooklyn must be conceded to have the best pitching staff of any of the three clubs still concerned with the playing of the World Series starting a week from tomorrow at Yankee Stadium.

Whether the Flatbushers actually do have a tonier staff than either their National League rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals, or the American League champs, the Yankees, is something to argue over. The writer, frankly, is inclined to think that the Cardinal corps, with its several crack left-handers, might stand a better chance of checking the Yankee sluggers than the Dodgers' right-handers would have. But that is a matter of opinion, and there is nothing in the figures to make it stand up.

Two 21-Game Winners What the book actually shows is that Brooklyn boasts two 21-game winners in Whitlow Wyatt and Kirby Higbe. That is supposed to be the hallmark of a champion—two 20-game winners; or, rather, it was supposed to have been until the Yankees ran away from the American League this year with a set of practically anonymous pitchers.

That is, of course, the most amazing thing about this Yankee club. Its two leading pitchers are those old codgers, Red Ruffing and Lefty Gomez, each with 15 victories, and after that the list quickly tails off to Margus Russo, with 13 wins, and three others, whose names don't come easily to mind, with nine apiece.

The Cardinals, by a truly remarkable coincidence, are fighting Brooklyn right to the last gasp with a staff almost as access as that of the Yankees. They have a couple of 17-game winners in Ernie White and Lon Warneke, a 13-gamer in Mort Cooper, a 11-gamer in Harry Gumbert, and a back-yard full of brilliant youngsters.

So Higbe and Wyatt, until something drastic happens to them to prove the contrary, will have to be voted the most likely to succeed in their World Series starts.

Ruffing May Lead Off There's absolutely no telling what pitcher will start any contest for the Yankees, though the consensus favors Ruffing to lead off if he is free of aches and pains next Wednesday. He and Wyatt would make an interesting battle. Ernie White, a southpaw, would be the logical starter for St. Louis, in view of the popular theory that the Yankees are allergic to lefties.

One of the more dramatic moments of the series is certain to come when the goody Senor Gomez toes the rubber for the Yankees, seeking his seventh World Series victory. Some observers wouldn't be surprised to see the crafty castilian start the second contest. He still is a lot of pitcher for about seven innings, and he has Johnny Murphy, the best relief man in the business, to finish up for him.

Behind Higbe and Wyatt the Dodgers have a pair of good bets in Curt Davis and Fred Fitzsimmons. Fitz's knuckler still can be very exasperating. Also, there is the veteran Johnny Allen, who has pitched some remarkable ball since the Dodgers rescued him from the bone yard, and who could be counted upon to pitch his arm white.

FRANKIE FRISCH SET TO POUNCE ON LEO'S TEAM

Brooklyn Moves Into Pittsburgh For Final Series

Associated Press Sports Writer There is a guy named Frankie Frisch in the National League, known up and down the senior circuit as "Onkel Franz."

Now Onkel Franz doesn't care much for Leo the Lip Durocher who manages the Brooklyn Dodgers. Onkel Franz said as much when he was boss man of the St. Louis Gas House gang and Leo the Lip was just a St. Loo hired man.

Well, Leo the Lip and his Dodgers had a game and a half edge over St. Louis this morning as the Cards moved into Pittsburgh for a four-game series with Onkel Franz's Pirates in the tightest National League race in the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Here is the way the race sizes up today:

Team	W	L	Pct.	Play
Brooklyn	97	53	.647	— 6
St. Louis	94	53	.639	— 6

Onkel Franz, if he so desired, really could make it softer for the Cards, than he would for the Gowanus Gallants, but the old flash is still playing up the hilt showing no favorites. He has nominated Ken Heintzelman as his elbow in the first game of a twin bill with the Cards this afternoon and Ken has given the warriors from St. Louis plenty of trouble. In his last four starts against the Cards, he has broken even, holding them to 14 runs while his guys scored 13. In the nightcap it will be Truett Sewell or Bob Klinger, either of whom can make it plenty tough for the Cards.

Dodgers Idle Today The Dodgers are idle today after adding a half game to their margin yesterday with a 5-0 trimming of the Phillies as the Cards had an open date. Curt Davis curve-balled the Phils into submission with a six-hit job, but it was close until the sixth inning when Frank Melton softened up and the Brooklyn poured four runs across to put the game on ice.

The only other action in the National League found the New York Giants splitting a twin bill with the Boston Braves.

One of two games on the curtailed American League card saw the 1940 champions, the Detroit Tigers, move into a fourth-place tie by moving down the Chicago White Sox, 11-0, with Alton Benton and Luther Thomas combining in a six-hit job and the Tigers clawing three hurriers for 18 hits.

Johnny Niggeling blanked the succumbing beauties from Cleveland with seven hits for a 5 to 0 St. Louis victory. Niggeling ran right through the Tribe with seven hits, as the Browns, after landing on Bob Feller for four runs in the first frame, coasted in to hand the Iowa elbowier his 13th setback of the year against 24 victories.

Former Engineer On C. &amp; E. I. Sues Railway

Chicago, Sept. 23—(AP)—Herbert Gilbert, 54, of Joliet, sued the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern Railroad for $100,000 damages yesterday, contending it was responsible for injuries which made him permanently bedridden.

A former engineer for the road, Gilbert alleged he suffered a broken back when he slipped on ice Feb. 13, 1940, near Rondout. The ice formed, he contended, because the railroad was negligent in failing to repair a water tower spout which made imperfect contact with engine intakes.

Chicago's Auto Show Called Off This Year

Chicago, Sept. 23—(AP)—Chicago will have no automobile show this year because of needs of the defense program and curtailed automotive production. The show, one of the nation's largest, had been scheduled for Oct. 12-19 and was cancelled after the sponsor, the Chicago automobile Trade Association canvassed dealers, distributors and manufacturers.

Americans Debate Pros and Cons of Foreign Policies

Lines Clearly Drawn in Discussions of World Involved in War

By WILLIAM PINKERTON
New York, Sept. 23—(The Special News Service)—A year of beefing and battle has drawn the lines sharply in the great debate over America's policy toward a world at war.

Today the main lines are clear—you favor the administration's foreign policy or you oppose it.

In general, those who favor the policy of President Roosevelt do so because they believe that only the defeat of Nazi Germany will assure America's future well-being.

In general, those who oppose the president's policy do so because they believe America's interest lies in avoiding the costs of war.

As might be expected, there is wider variation in the reasoning of those who oppose the president than among his supporters.

A political campaign on the scale of that now waging breeds elaborate organizations, expensive offices, eye-catching throwaways, fund-collectors, meeting-arrangers and other paraphernalia of politics.

Today the two dies in the Great Debate head up in two organizations.

For the administration's policy—the Committee to Defend America.

Against the administration's policy—the America First Committee.

Both Groups Big

Both groups are big. And both have, behind the stage-set of oratory, a gallery of pros and semipros in the mysterious arts of politics.

Here is our handy-dandy guide for citizens tempted to join the fray, a general survey of some of the organizations looking around for new members:

Pro-administration:

Friends of Democracy, Inc.—Describes its purpose as "exposing anti-democratic propaganda inside the United States". Started in Kansas City in 1935 with a campaign against the Rev. Gerald Winrod, a candidate for the senate whom it accused of attacking the Y.M.C.A., the Catholic church, and American Jews. Since has published brochures against Joseph E. McWilliams of the Christian Mobilizers, Father Charles E. Coughlin, Henry Ford and America First.

Committee to Defend America (by aiding the allies, defeating the axis powers, and developing means for permanent peace) — That's the name. Started by William Allen White, Kansas Editor, in May, 1940, to advocate aid for the allies short of war. Highlights of present program: break off relations with Germany; deliver the goods "all the way across" with British naval help; prevent axis control of Atlantic islands and African bases; recognize DeGaulle's Free French with lend-lease aid; more material aid to China, continued economic pressure on Japan; one-man control of defense production; cooperation of U. S. in organizing and preserving international order and justice after victory.

Fight for Freedom, Inc. — Organized in May, 1941, "to get us in war", as its officials phrase it, on the theory that Roosevelt recognizes the necessity for war but needs assurance of national backing. Cooperates with the Committee to Defend America. In New York (but not elsewhere) local groups have merged into the fight for freedom committee to defend America.

Anti-administration:

America First Committee — Organized in Chicago in September, 1940, with Gen. Robert E. Wood as chairman. Described as "not fundamentally, a peace organization," it puts forth these principles: keep America out of foreign wars; preserve and extend democracy at home; keep American naval convoys and merchant ships on this side of the Atlantic; build a defense for our own shores; give humanitarian aid to people in occupied countries.

Keep America Out of War Congress (and Youth Committee against War) — Organized at a meeting of peace groups in Washington on Memorial day weekend of 1938. Considers America First conservative in respect to reforms within the United States. Program: keep America out of further involvement in war; evolve out of political and economic freedom a democratic way of life that can meet and destroy totalitarianism at home and abroad. Officials say it is not pacifist in philosophy today.

Fellowship of Reconciliation (inter-denominational) and War-Resisters League (non-religious) — International pacifist agencies of long standing. Memberships embrace Protestants, Catholics and Jews. Advocate non-violent resistance and non-cooperation with aggressors everywhere (along the lines of Gandhi's campaign in India). Give aid to conscientious objectors to military service.

Although members are not committed to a program, they agree, in general, on equal opportunity for all in the United States including Orientals and other minorities.

orities; a federal world government similar to the United States; renouncing the idea of war guilt; repudiating every form of racism in regard to Jews, Negroes and Orientals; Equitable access to markets and raw materials for all peoples; opportunity for all subject nations (such as Denmark, Puerto Rico and India) to determine their own destiny; drastic arms reduction all over the world; U. S. financing of sound economic rehabilitation of Europe and Asia.

They'll Do It Every Time

Co. A on Maneuvers

By PFC. JAMES W. KLINE

We celebrated our first month's anniversary on Sept. 9th by marching from our "chicken dinner" outpost detail at dusk. Walked two miles and entrucked to our former area between Arcadia and Ruston and then marched again ten miles due south in a heavily wooded section to an area on a hill. Here we slept in the open from 5 a. m. until 11 a. m. and then marched two more miles in a drenching rain to a more secluded camp site. For a motorized division we seem to pick 'em up and lay 'em down quite often. Conservative estimates from some of the boys put our combined walking distance at between 200 and 235 miles in Dixie.

The remainder of the day (Sept. 10) we laid down and rested. The next day we washed and cleaned our clothing and equipment and rested some more. Reveille was at 5 a. m. Set, 12, at which time we dressed, gulped breakfast and rolled our packs. After a brief wait at the side of the road the truck pulled up and we rolled away. At 6:30 that night they had King's X this time so they left the truck lights on and moved 45 miles to bivouac on the edge of Kimsatchie forest preserve near the small town of Chestnut.

Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 13 and 14, was declared a holiday so the boys looked over the bayou country of central Louisiana.

This phase of maneuvers marked the beginning of the big battle for the city of Alexandria. We were to become part of the Red attacking forces. The Blues are concentrating south of the Red river so when the war is again at 12:01 a. m. Monday it is our aim to penetrate enemy territory and strike at vulnerable positions with alacrity resembling the now famous blitzkrieg.

We entrucked at 6:30 p. m., Sunday, Sept. 14th and moved south-west to a concealed area near Black Lake. Left this spot at noon the 15th on truck again through Conshatta, La., and crossed the Red river into enemy territory, to a new area near Marthaville. Company A set up an outpost guard for the First battalion which was held for 44 hours.

At 4:00 o'clock Wednesday, Sept. 17th we left our area in approach march formation and walked 18 miles southeast until 2 a. m. Outposts were set up again and from the continual drone of planes we knew the enemy was not far away. We should see some action very soon now because we are in enemy territory and are outnumbered almost 3 to 1.

Into almost every area that a bivouac is made, some new insect or reptile is discovered. So far we have seen scorpions, wood ticks, gnats, chiggers, mosquitoes, grasshoppers, spiders, yellow jackets, katydids, locusts and many more. Twice a week we are given pills to prevent malaria. They dope up the drinking water with chlorine, iodine and alum. It sure makes a delicious highball. Good old-fashioned well water seems flat and tasteless now. But it is for our own good. Very few men have been sick and none had anything serious, except maybe some very attractive propositions by mail from the gals along the route. You should see the pictures of some of the dolls that write to the army.

Mrs. Gilbert Stien, Mrs. Alla Donagh, Mary Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hills, Mrs. Hazel M. Rosenkrans and son Donald, Henry Egler, William Bauer and children Verna and Erna, William Horton, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Bauer of Compton, and Mrs. Henry Reif and family of Leland.
